St. John's in 1974..it was the first victory over St. Peter's by the varsity football team in four years... it was a successful Student Council... it was an undefeated season for the varsity basketball team...it was a new constitution... it was the most successful Ad Drive in St. John's history...it was the two frustrating losses at Boston College...it was the struggle to remain independent while many other private schools closed, and for the moment at least a victory in that struggle. Most of all, it was the people of St. John's, every student, every lay and religious teacher, and every member of the Administration and Staff working together to accomplish something that no other school could. Whether it was in athletics or academics, it was the people of St. John's accomplishing the impossible, for despite the problems at home, in the economy, in politics and elsewhere the people of St. John's showed what a dedicated group of individuals could achieve. Although there was not always total agreement among members, never did anyone retreat into cynicism. A pioneer is one who explores unknown territory and 1974 at St. John's, in both its successes and failures, was a continued process of discovery. That is why we dedicate this yearbook to the "Pioneers" at St. John's.

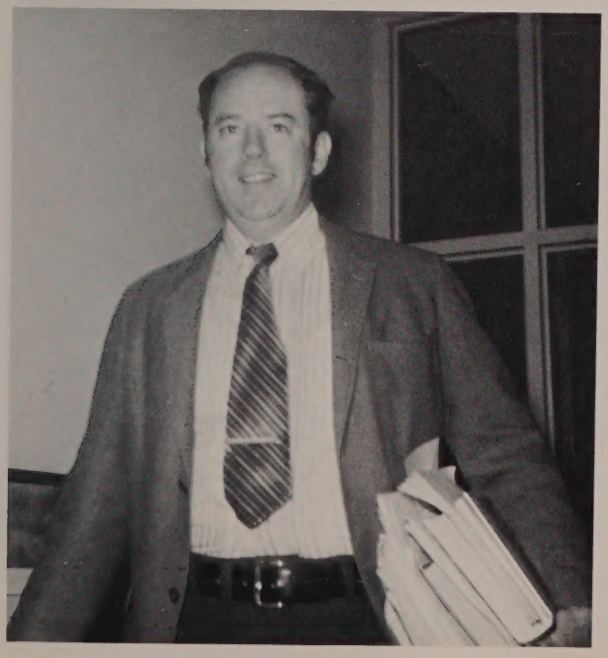
Yearbook



Innocently, we fell into the trap. How could we have known what awaited us? It looked like an easy task--a little writing, a little cropping, layout a page or two, collect some money--piece of cake, right? No way. It took time to get the technical side down--none of us knew how to extort money, not to mention the difficulties we had learning how to type. Well, that's all behind us now. We enjoyed making all the sacrifices it took to bring you this Yearbook. We took pride in the hours we spent editing and cropping. Tossing financial cares to the wind, we've gone to almost no expense in preparing this Yearbook. And always we stood behind our motto: "Never give a sucker an even break."

The Editorial Staff (Harry Kelly, Rich Zingarelli, Paul Dufault, Rich Houston, Larry Naritelli, Jack Byrnes, John Fouhy, and Kim Visbaras) want to congratulate the Editorial Staff for their great job in producing this fine Yearbook. They also want to thank the Photography Staff (Rich Tremblay, John Renard, Pat Donahue, Raul Laborde, and Bill Greenway) for the time and effort they put in for the cause. We also wish to mention Josten's-American Yearbook Co. and Marvin Richmond Studios, who supplied us with much important technical help.

Finally, we want to thank our advisor and mentor, Mr. Robert Moynagh. His patience, knowledge and expertise were the prime factors in the production of this yearbook--so blame him!

Dances, &c.

St. John's has made a 180 degree turn from their social set-up of four years ago. The Student Council no longer ran all the activities, with the individual classes running their own events. Dances returned to prominence, while Coffeehouses fell out of style. Most of the events were, for the record, financially profitable. A good time, though, was what everyone was looking for, and most found it. Whatever the activities were, they were flavored with something unmistakably St. John's. While most other schools were forced to end school activities due to vandalism, events at St. John's continued stronger than ever. That's the way we do things here.

May I have your attention please.

Mmmm.... This tastes good.

Football

Football has always been a winning tradition at St. John's, and the 1973 gridders kept that tradition intact as they compiled a fine 6-2-1 record, and remained unquestionably among the premier teams in the area.

Before the season began, fourth-year coach Bob Bradley was well aware that the St. John's defensive unit would be big, strong, and quick, and, at times, virtually impenetrable. However, offense was the big question mark. Although quarterback Jim Garvey was returning for his third year of varsity action, the rest of the offense was relatively inexperienced, especially the backfield.

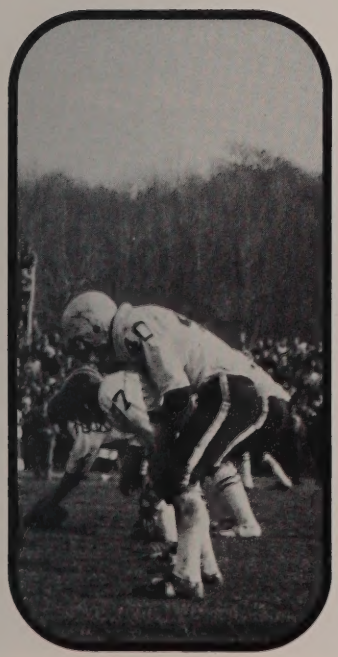
In the season opener, St. John's was defeated by the Blue Devils of Leominster, 19-0. The score was quite deceiving, however, for the Pioneers dominated most of the game. The St. J's. defense did a fine job, but three costly turnovers, all of which resulted in Leominster touchdowns, yielded the lopsided score.

The following week the Big Red Machine got its offense into gear with a whitewashing of Catholic Conference rival Holy Name by a score of 20-0. The triumph was sparked by outstanding defense led by such stalwarts as Mark Flynn, Tony Penny, Peter Blute, Jim Derry, and Paul Loughlin. They caused several turnovers, while Jim Garvey led the Pioneer offense to three scores, passing to Tom Marzilli and Tony Penny while Junior Bob Quinlivan rushed for the other touchdown.

St. John's made it two in a row as they shut out Doherty High, 14-0, in one of the season's most important games. Doherty was quite a power in the Inter-High League and in Class A competition, which prompted Jim Stewart and Bill Valinski, writers for our own St. John's Review, to predict a Doherty victory. This must have stirred the players up, for although the Pioneers were smaller man-for-man, they managed to push and manhandle the HiLanders all afternoon. The S. J. defense shut out the opposition for the second week in a row, and offensively, two underclassmen, Junior Jim Coggins and Sophomore Mike Rosseel each ran for a touchdown.

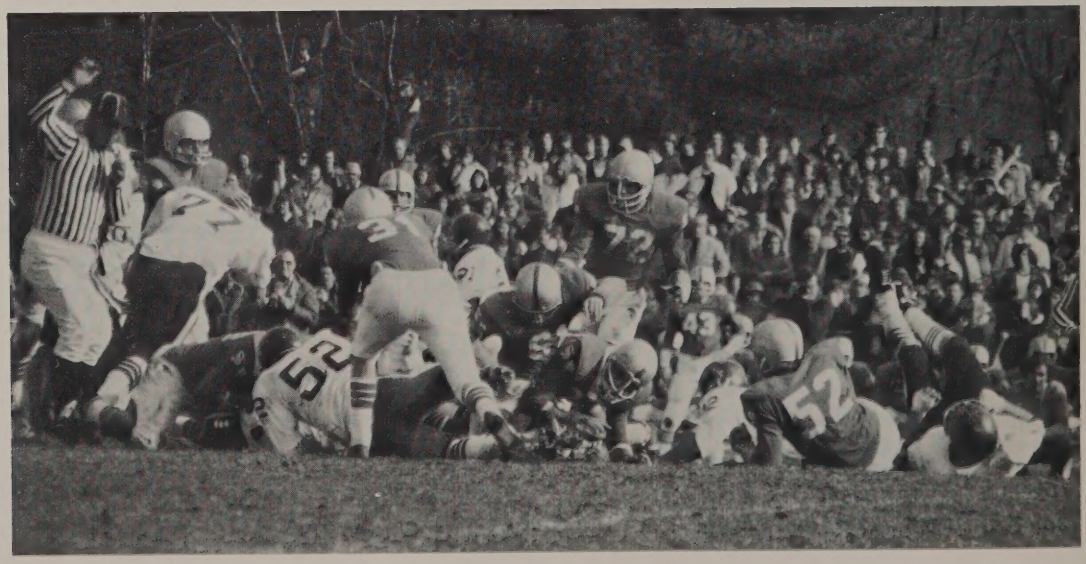
Next in line for the steadily improving Pioneers was perenial power Gardner High, a match which could hardly be considered a pushover. The game ended in a scoreless tie, and was a classic example of great defensive teams going at each other. The S. J. offense had several drives, and although they were unable to put any points on the board, they appeared to be developing into a solid unit.

St. John's extended its undefeated string to four games in its next outing, whipping an overpowered North High eleven, 29-7. St. John's scored an insurmountable 29-0 lead at the end of the first half as the offense continued to improve. In the second half, many of the subs saw action, and the Pioneers coasted to an easy victory.



After a one week layoff, the Big Red Machine was back in action against cross town rival Shrewsbury High in the mythical town championship. The game was a real thriller, as the lead changed hands several times before the Colonials grabbed the lead for good in the fourth quarter. The highlight of the day for St. John's was a 65-yard run for a touchdown by Jim Coggins.

The loss certainly must have hurt the Pioneers, but their performance on the field did not display any letdown whatsoever. In fact, it seemed to make the team a little bit hungrier, as they won the three remaining games, convincingly. First, they demolished Southbridge 29-6, and then did virtually the same thing to Burncoat, winning by a score of 28-0. This offensive barrage, along with the continued ferocity of the Pioneer defense gave St. John's the momentum they needed going into the annual Thanksgiving Day rivalry against St. Peter's.



This season finale typified the St. John's 1973 season as the team recorded its fifth shutout of the year in defeating the Guardians 15-0. Needless to say, the defensive unit rose to the occasion. Above all was the performance of Gerry Fitzgibbons, who won the Hazelhurst Trophy for his great line play. The offense was also smooth, and Jim Coggins brought the huge crowd to its feet with a spectacular 51 yard TD run. As usual, Jim Garvey was cool, calm, and collected as he lead the offense. He was awarded the Corsac Trophy as the game's outstanding performer on offense.

Fitzgibbons, along with fellow senior Peter Blute were named to the Central Massachusetts Honor Team. They deserved a great deal of credit for the reputation earned by the defense, and additional praise goes to Peter who performed so well despite a nagging neck injury which bothered him throughout the season.

The success of the team can be attributed to a number of things. The coaching and leadership of Coach Bradley and his staff, the great leadership of the seniors on the team, and the exceptional play of a number of underclassmen all were instrumental factors.

The class of '74 left its mark on St. John's football this season and some of its members will surely go on to bigger and better things in college. Hopefully, their efforts will make some impression on the underclassmen so that they too will carry out the tradition of winning football at St. John's.

Soccer

Prospects for a successful 1973 season were doubtful for the Pioneer soccer team. Graduation had taken 10 senior starters, including an All-American. The returning seniors were inexperienced and the defense was doubtful. To make matters more difficult, a new, young coach would be saddled with the responsibility of continuing the winning tradition that Coach Granahan had built during the preceding years.

Coach Ted Soteropoulos stressed a highly offensive game dependent on the halfbacks to control the middle of the field, mixing offense with defense. Inexperience and the inability to adjust to the offensive system led to opening losses to strong Quabbin and Leominster teams. A complete readjustment to a more balanced system and continued hard work on fundamentals and shooting helped the Pioneers. They forgot their earlier setbacks and shellacked Marianhill, 4-2 with scores by Steve Lemieux, Gerry Decaire, and two by Rich Houstom. Joe Civiello, playing soccer for the first time, was outstanding in the net, showing great quickness and a strong throwing arm.

The Red Machine eased by Fitchburg, 3-0 with Civiello posting his first shut-out. Holy Name followed and forced St. John's to battle from behind to gain a 2-2 tie. St. Peter's took full force of the Pioneers frustration and barely escaped with their reputations as they were bombarded 7-0. The offense finally put it together and peppered the Guardian's net with 24 shots. Spreadbury and Lemieux led the way with two goals apiece.

The Big Red, led by seniors Gerry Decaire and John Fouhy, junior Steve Lemieux and sophomore Kevin Spreadbury, rolled through St. Mary's and Wachusett. Decaire had four goals in the Wachusett game.

St. John's, despite some nagging injuries, was well prepared for the rematch with Holy Name. The Pioneers jumped to a quick 1-0 lead with a breakaway blast by John Fouhy and were never threatened. They ran away with the game, 3-0, for the No. 1 position in the Catholic Conference. Fitchburg and St. Peter's fell again and Leominster was next.

Leominster was breezing with an unblemished record and was ranked No. 1 in Central Mass. St. John's came out sky-high and scored two quick goals to lead 2-0 at the half. St. John's lost pace, though, in the second half and allowed Leominster to tie, 2-2.

A state tournament berth and the Catholic Conference title were the impetus of the following game as the Pioneers downed St. Mary's, 2-0. In the final game of the season, St. John's fell victim to an inspired Shrewsbury team, 1-0, snapping an 11 game unbeaten streak.

In the State Tournament, St. John's was seeded 13th and drew no. 4 seeded Springfield Tech. St. John's proved that they were underrated as they came out scrapping and, cheered on by a partisan crowd, outplayed and outhustled the opposing team. Tech's strong defense stunted St. John's thrusts to the goal and it was a scoreless tie at the half. Fine first half play instilled confidence and continued the frenzied action, but St. John's could not find the net. With less than a minute left, Tech picked up a loose ball from a mix-up in front of the St. John's net and bounced one past the downed net minder, Joe Civiello. Joe was outstanding in net as he turned away 27 shots.

St. John's season ended on the down side, but for a team that was supposedly beaten before the season, they showed life until the end. The defense was solid all year long. Led by Rich Trembowicz, it matured after the first two games and with the help of Joe Civiello, allowed only .69 goals per game the rest of the year. Seniors Courtney Grimes and Al Lemieux gave the Pioneers strength in the back line, and junior Phil Vigeant proved to be the surprise of the year with his fine play in the second half of the season. Filling out the S.J. defense were Jack Brynes, Dan Fitzpatrick, Paul Houston, Mike Moynihan, and Dave Hultgren.

The offense had it when they needed to as they scored 40 goals at a 2, 7 per game clip. Junior Steve Lemieux, a Central Mass. All-Star, was high scorer with 14 points, but Gerry Decaire was amazing around the net as he notched 11 goals for team high. Other forwards who filled in admirably were Jim Lauring, Tom Dolan, Mike Camusso, Steve Lajko, John Roche and Jay Gilmartin.

The guts of the team was at the halfback position with St. John's third All-Star Mike Rosseel and co-captain Rich Houston. They rarely made headlines but were indispensable to the squad. Other halfbacks were John Fouhy, Bob Utschsneider, Dave Flattery, John Neiland, and Mike Dolan.

Goalies were Joe Civiello and Matt Koomey. Joe had a great season as he handled 228 shots on the season, allowed only 16 goals and had 5 shutouts. Matt saw limited action but was instrumental in the J.V.'s 11-2-2 record.

The underclassmen will form a strong nucleus for next year's team and aided by the fine J.V. and freshmen teams, and an added interest in soccer at St. John's, the team should continue the winning ways of St. John's soccer under Coach Soteropoulos.

Co-Captain Michael Barry, Coach Brother Fintan, Co-Captain Lawrence McKevitt.

The 1973 Cross Country season developed into one of the most successful in recent years for St. John's harriers. With only two seniors on the team, Mike Barry and Larry McKevitt, the burden of a winning season lay heavily on the shoulders of the underclassmen.

For most of the season, sophomore John Turpin led the team, placing consistently high in the 11 victories. He was followed by junior Jack Tracy. These two provided the 1-2 punch that S.J. needed to be a powerhouse. Junior Bob Patnod and sophomore Phil Brennan picked up the slack and provided the Pioneers with their 3-4 power punch in big races. Mike and Larry provided the needed leadership for the team, and ran consistently well throughout the season.

The Pioneers accomplished one of their goals by regaining possession of the Catholic Conference Crown with a perfect, 7-0 Conference record, edging St. Bernard's in the final Conference meet of the year.

The S.J. harriers were also involved in two 'trophy' races as well as a Catholic Conference Run. In the Knights of Columbus race, St. John's collected a total of 12 trophies, and John Turpin finished 10th in a large field. In the Kiwanis race, sponsored by Shrewsbury, the Pioneers also placed very well. Turpin once again was the top finisher for St. John's, followed closely by Bob Patnod and Phil Brennan.

Finally, there was the Catholic Conference Run. It proved to be a great finish for St. John's, as two records were broken by Pioneer runners. In the Jr.-Sr. race, it was Jack Tracy shattering the old record, while Larry McKevitt and Mike Barry also had excellent times. Meanwhile, in the Fr.-Soph. race, John Turpin broke the old record set just last year by none other than our own Jack Tracy.

Bro. Fintan must have been satisfied with the season, and should be optimistic about things to come with such a fine crop of underclassmen who could develop into stars in coming years.

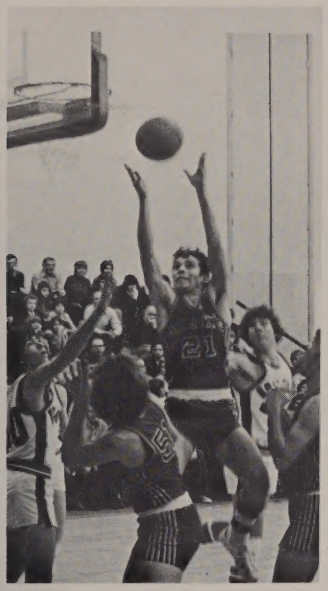
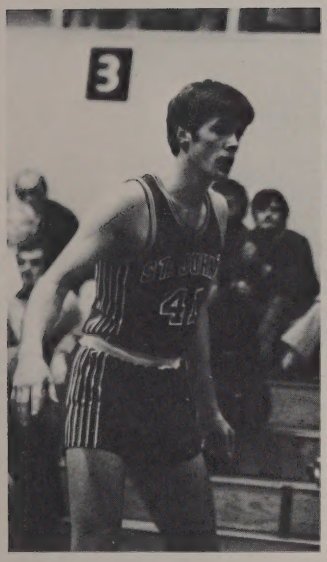
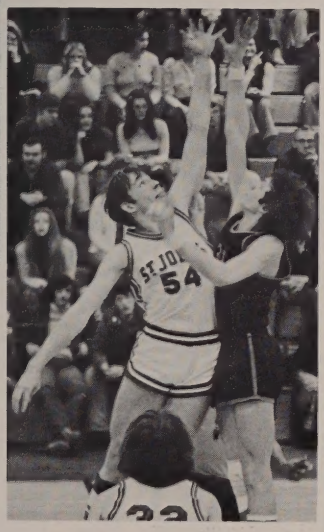
Basketball

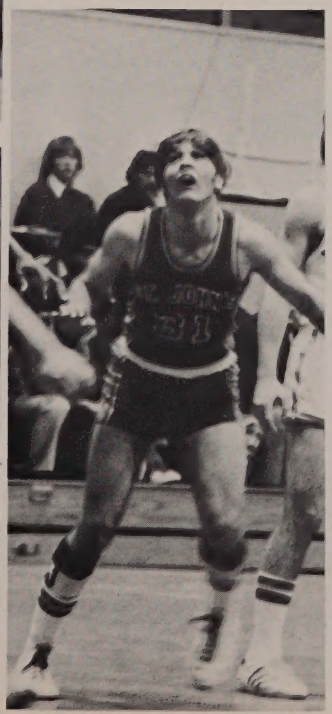






The 1973-1974 basketball season will long be remembered by the team and its followers, as well it should. This was the year that the squad, under the masterful tutelage of Coach Bibaud, went from rags to riches. Prospects at the season's beginning did not appear favorable, due to the fact that only one truly experienced player--John Hurley--was returning, not to mention a lack of depth on the bench. However, the players believed in themselves and by the end of the season had made believers out of many people who watched or played against them. In fact, the team finished the regular season with an undefeated record (20-0), and came within several points of the coveted State Championship.

The Pioneers were severely tested in their first game of the year, as they traveled to Fall River to face powerful Durfee High. The game proved itself a sign of two things: first, St. John's came up with a victory, of which there would be 22 more before the season's end, and second, Joe Civiello and Dave Hultgren joined Hurley as high scorers. The trio would soon be known as the Big Three of St. John's. Two games later, S.J. faced another state power in Springfield Commerce, a team which most people rated number 1 in the state. Apparently no one told the St. John's quintet about this, for the Pioneers quickly jumped out to a ten point lead and literally blew Commerce out of the gym.



Eclipsing Holy Name . . .

Holy Name was the next big test for the ever-improving St. John's quintet. The Naps certainly gave their rivals a scare, as they led most of the way. However, one of the characteristics of a great team is the ability to excel in hard situations. In this case, it was clutch foul shooting by Joe Civiello, who sparked the team so many times over the course of the season, which enabled the Pioneers to walk away with the victory. St. Peter's, another Catholic Conference rival, also gave the Big Red Machine a run for the money, but once again the Big Five played outstanding basketball and SJ came up with another win.

As the season progressed, more and more people began to take notice of this high flying squad. By January, the team had defeated all of its opponents, and in most cases rather handily. However, the Big Red had at least one more stiff test ahead, as they went up against Inter-High and Class A power Doherty High. Not only were the High-Landers talented, but the game was scheduled for Doherty's gym, the sight of several nightmares for St. John's teams in recent years. The going was tough throughout, but John Hurley was an outstanding performer, collecting a total of 28 points and 18 rebounds. Due mainly to Hurley's inspirational play, along with some clutch shooting by Civiello and Foley, St. John's managed a nine-point victory.

One week and three victories later, St. John's traveled to Boston College to play in the New England Catholic Tournament. In the first round, they defeated Xaverian High, 69-50, with a great second half. The first loss of the season came two days later during the semi-final round, as St. John's lost a heart-breaker to Don Bosco, 74-67 in overtime. The Pioneers returned home, sporting a fine 19-1 record and were still undefeated in regular season play.

The Big Red Machine closed out the regular season in Leominster, as they whitewashed the Blue Devils 89-63. The game marked two historic events for St. John's--for the basketball team, it ended the first undefeated season in 19 years, and for John Hurley, the game meant reaching the coveted 1,000 career-point plateau.

The District III playoffs were a breeze for the Pioneers, as many people expected. First, St. John's romped over Burncoat, 92-64, as the Pioneers exploded in the second half. In the final match of the playoffs, the Pioneers annihilated Shrewsbury, 79-48, capturing the District III crown and the right to play in the State semi-finals against Boston English.

English proved a bit too much for the Pioneers, who put up a great battle before going down in defeat, 76-69. English went on to win the State Championship by downing St. John's of Danvers.

The 1973-1974 basketball season will go down as one of the most successful in the history of St. John's. The team, which was apparently facing a rebuilding year, devastated most of their opponents and showed the results which come from hustle, determination, and dedication. Their coach, Mr. Bibaud, exemplifies all of the qualities which a team must possess to win. It may seem that next year, St. John's will have to rebuild, but with players like Russo, Collins, Hebb and Crimmins returning, it may very well be an instant replay of the 1973-74 season.

Hockey

Though this year's hockey team encountered rough times and a disappointing season, there were some highlights and the promise of better fortune next winter. At the beginning of the season, it was rather difficult to determine what kind of a trend, if any, was going to develop. Early in the season, the team lost to Auburn by a mere two goals, but then bounced back to knock off Wachusett. However, after losing several more games, including a disheartening 7-2 loss to Hudson, the losing trend seemed to take form.

The Pioneers had a relatively potent offense in the likes of Jerry Decaire, Mark Farley, and Kevin Turcotte. Many of the games were low scoring contests, due largely to the stalwart goaltending of Jim Stewart. The leadership responsibilities were held by the seniors, and especially by co-captains Jim Stewart and Jerry Decaire.

Although no one could boast that it was a great season, there were four members of the team receiving all-star recognition: Mark Farley, Kevin Turcotte, Jim Stewart, and Jerry Decaire. All except Turcotte were seniors, and will be sorely missed next year. Also graduating are Bill Valinski, Roger Kane, John Gilmartin, and Jim Winske.

There were a number of underclassmen who were impressive this year and will be important to next year's team. Among the top underclassmen are juniors Kevin Turcotte and Fran Bastien, and sophomores Gary Petro, D.J. Paul, and Bobby Laboissiere.

Brother Xavier will be attending Catholic University next year in hopes of getting his doctorate. Thus the coaching reins will fall on someone else's shoulders. Brother X had a fine record in his three years as head hockey coach, and hopefully next year's coach will be able to do as well.

Indoor Track

This season's Indoor Track had high hopes for a successful year. With many of last year's star underclassmen returning to the fold and Mr. Gerald Frew, a former St. John's man himself, coaching his first season, the team started practice on an optimistic note.

In their opening meet, weeks of preparation paid off in whopping dividends as they trounced Leominster 55-22. Then came the turning point of the season. The Pioneers knew that their main rivals would be the Wachusett High School Mountaineers. At the rivals gym, the psyched-up Redmen were out for blood, but due to some highly controversial calls by the judges, the Mountaineers prevailed by 11 points. The effects of this defeat were felt against Burncoat, as the Pioneers lost by 1 point. After annihilating South by 31 points, St. John's lost four straight, close ones, against Leominster and Fitchburg and stunning setbacks at Doherty and Wachusett.

Although the team did not fare well, individuals proved their abilities by setting four records by the year's end. The first record to fall was the 45 yd. hurdle, broken by Don Desorcy against Doherty. Don ran the 45 in 5.7 seconds breaking the old record by 0.1 seconds. Next went the high jump record, as Kim Visbaris jumped 6'5" against Wachusett, eclipsing the old record by four big inches. He also placed second in the State Meet. At that meet, Mike Barry and Larry McKevitt made two more marks fall, as Mike ran a 600 yd. in 1:21.2 minutes, bettering the old mark by 0.5 seconds and Larry flashed through 300 yds. with one sneaker no less, in 36.4 seconds, downing the existing time by one second. Thanks go to the entire team for a job well done.

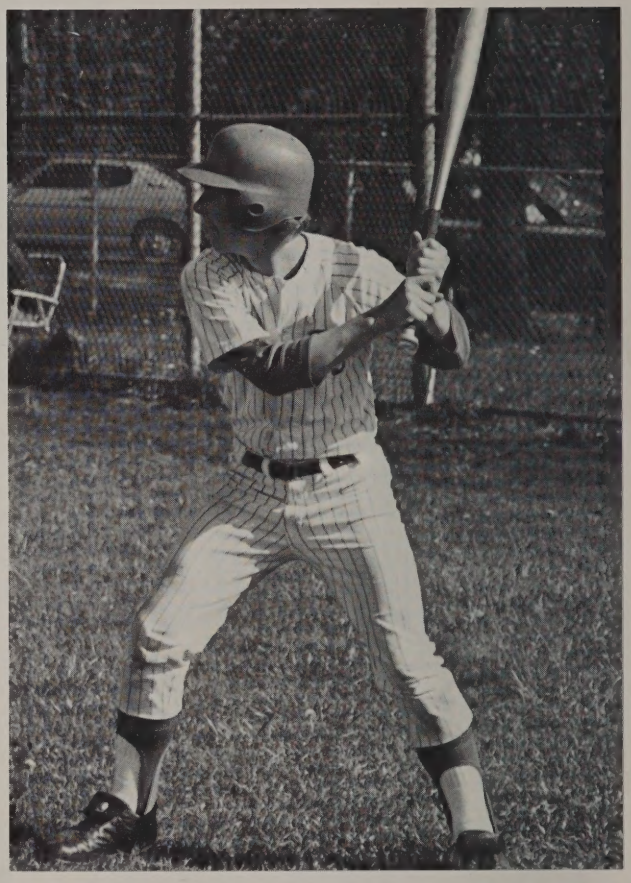
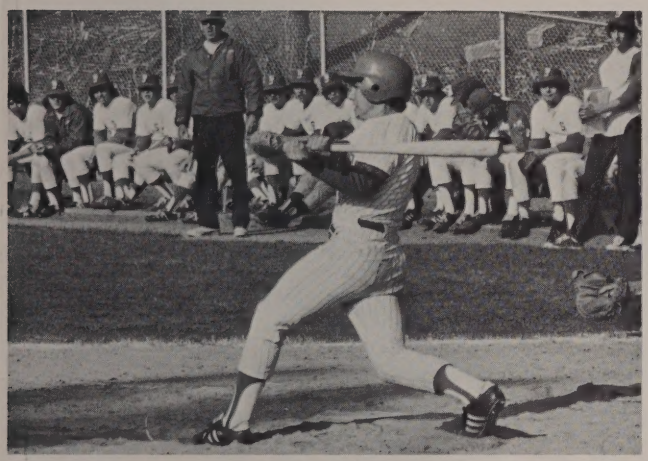
Baseball

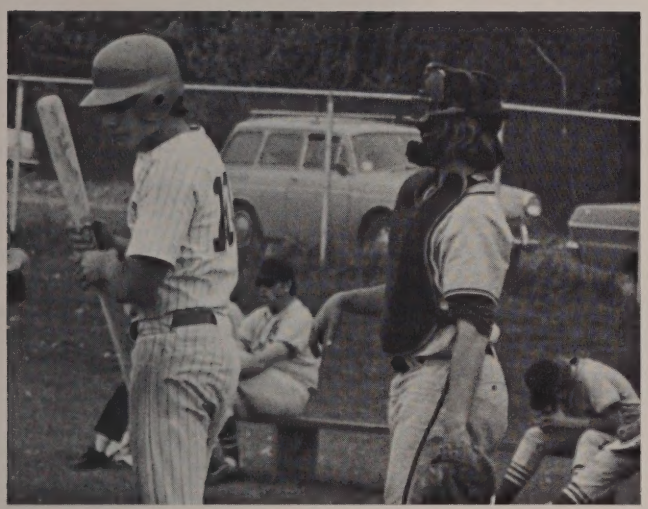


The 1974 baseball team was laden with talent and experience, and certainly played accordingly throughout the season. The squad was led by co-captains Mark Killeen and Mike Moran, perhaps two of the finest all-around ballplayers in the area. At the beginning of the season, the starting team consisted of nine experienced seniors who were established as varsity players. For catcher Rich Trembowicz, it was his fourth year behind the plate. He contributed offensively and was a stellar receiver. Rounding out the infield were Tim Foley at first base, Joe Jordan at second, Mike Moran at shortstop, and Tom Marzilli at third base. In the outfield it was Mike Creane, Joe Civiello, and Jim Stewart or Mark Killeen, from left to right.

St. John's started off fast, and midway through the season the Pioneers were flying high, as they had lost but one game. Killeen and Moran were the offensive stalwarts, while Killeen and Jim Derry were the stoppers of the pitching staff. Coach Case made a few changes, putting Mike McKevilly and John Grosse in left and right field, respectively; however, for the most part, he stayed with his starting--and winning--unit, right from the beginning of the season.



The second half was much like the first. The Pioneers continued to win and qualified for the District III playoffs with relative ease. As a result Coach Case used many of his reserves, and although the Pioneers lost two of their final games, a number of underclassmen were able to gain some experience.



The regular season ended with S. J. having compiled an impressive 14-4 record. In the opening round of the Distr-icts, St. John's faced rival St. Peter's. Although the Pioneers had demolished the Guardians earlier in the season by a score of 25-5, they realized that this was a playoff game and anything could happen. Southpaw Mark Killeen was called on to do the pitching, and he came through with a clutch performance. While he was keeping the Guardians pretty much at bay, the Big Red offense racked up five runs, and the Pioneers coasted to a 5-3 victory. As a result, St. John's would go on to face a powerful Algonquin High team in the second round.

Algonquin proved to be an extremely potent squad, as they scored early and often. The St. John's offense, on the other hand, was having trouble getting untracked. As a result, the Pioneers came up to bat in the ninth inning behind by five runs and faced with a do-or-die situation. The Big Red Machine responded in a courageous fashion, scoring three times and nearly pulling out the victory. Although S. J. had too little too late, they did illustrate the confident and determined attitude so characteristic of this year's team.

With a little luck, this fine team could have gone even farther than they did, but the entire team and Coach Case are to be commended for a great season.

Track

The 1974 edition of the St. John's track team compiled a respectable record of 6-1-1. The squad was noted as one of the best teams in the area, as they finished 3rd in the District III meet, ahead of such strong teams as Doherty, Leominster, and Wachusett.

The season was marked by four team records. Kim Visbaras leaped 46'11" in the triple jump, breaking his own school record and the New England mark. Co-Captain Rich Houston, a standout miler for four years at St. John's bested the school record by 6 seconds with his 4.18.8. Marc Flynn tossed the discus 142'6" and junior "Leroy" Powers cleared 10'7" in the pole vault for the other records.

The track season opens with the annual Elk's race and S.J. distance men were paced to a 3rd place finish by runner-up Rich Houston. After a fine showing at the NCMC Relays, the team swept past North and St. Peter's in their opener, a tri-meet. The team then travelled to Leominster where they were nipped by the Blue Devils. S.J. vented their frustrations on defenseless Holy Name as they reached the century mark for the second time. Arch-rival Doherty followed 3 days later and S.J. jumped to an early lead only to fall behind as Doherty swept the 100 yard dash and the high hurdles. The relay team pulled out the tie with an exciting victory. The Wachusett meet followed the same formula but this time the relay team pulled one out for the win as the team upped their record to 4-1-1.

The Districts provided a change of pace, as individuals competed for themselves as well as the team. Kim Visbaras won the triple jump easily and was second in the high jump. Mark Flynn, set his record and paced a 1-3 finish in the discus as Bo Balinsky tossed a personal best. Rich Houston and Larry McKevitt finished second in the mile and 440, respectively. Underclassmen Jim Coggins and John Turpin placed in their specialties, the shot-put and the 2-mile. The 880 Relay team of John Fouhy, Steve Andrzejczyk, Jim Garvey and Larry McKevitt, ran the second fastest time in S.J. history, winning in a 1.35.0 clocking, allowing the team to avenge an earlier loss to Leominster.

The team closed out the season with convincing victories over Fitchburg and Burncoat at Foley Stadium. The State individual meet at the end of the season saw team leaders Rich Houston and Kim Visbaras do very well. Rich ran 5 consecutive sub 4.30 miles cutting 3 seconds each time and earning 5th in the state. Kim won his specialty and continued to the New England's where he set his record.

Throughout the season, a small group of seniors provided much of the leadership, so vitally important to any team. They were Co-Captains Rich Houston, Larry McKevitt and Mike Barry, a consistent 880 man, John Fouhy, Jim Garvey, Marc Flynn, Bill Ranauro, Kim Visbaras and Don Desoursy. However, the bulk of the team consisted of underclassmen. They were led by the soph trio of John Turpin, Jack Coggins and Phil Brennan in the distance events. Other consistent placers were sprinters Steve Andrzejczyk and Joe Buscemi, weightmen Chris Walton, Al Sukis, John Fitzgerald and Jim Coggins, hurdlers Paul Gadilauskas and Jim Etre and vaulters Steve Etre and Bill Powers.

Although the seniors will be sorely missed, Coaches Fintan, Frew, and Kelly are hoping that they have left behind enough dedication and confidence to the underclassmen to ensure the continuation of success next year and in years to come.

Crew

This year's crew team, under second year coach Don Maloney, was unquestionably one of the most hard working teams in the school. Despite facing many crews which were bigger and more experienced than they, the team fared relatively well, finishing with a 6-6 record.

After losing to Middletown in the first race of the season, the Pioneers went on to defeat such teams as Simsbury, Springfield Tech, and Worcester Tech. S. J. also participated in and placed well in the Quinsigamond Cup, as they finished third in a field of six.

The second half of the season proved to be a little less spectacular as the team went from a 6-2 record to their final standing of 6-6. Some of the losses were real heartbreakers, including a very close race with Shrewsbury in which the Pioneers came out on the short end by a mere half-length. After completing the regular season, the crew rowed in the N.E. Prep School Championships. Although they only finished eighth, they did defeat Middletown, thereby avenging an earlier defeat.

Leading the S. J. crew were co-captains Jim Kenary and Steve Ciras. Kenary, who was the stroke, was a member of the team four years, and his career was topped off by his winning of the Pioneer Award this year. Ciras, who sat right behind Kenary on this year's first boat, also had four years of experience, and together Jim and Steve provided a great deal of leadership. Other members of the first boat were Brian Hedberg, Bob Reidy, Rich Tremblay, George Latham, Mark Lozeau, Junior Bob Gardner, and coxswain Jim Cunningham.

Next year's crew should be as good or even better than this year's for there are a number of talented underclassmen in the program. The second boat had a fine season, including winning the Quinsigamond Cup. Its members included Bill Spitz, Bob Shea, Brian Buckley, Don Tremblay, Steve Kapurch, John O'Keefe, Gerry Raskett, Fran Madigan, and coxswain Mike Guillilund. The third crew also had a good year, so it looks like crew will continue to improve and expand in the next few years.

FIRST BOAT, LEFT TO RIGHT--B. Hedberg, M. Lozeau, G. Latham, B. Gardner, R. Reidy, R. Tremblay, S. Ciras, J. Kenary, and coxswain J. Cunningham.

Golf

The 1974 edition of the Saint John's Golf Team was a good example of how a team effort can ultimately lead to success. Coached by Mr. William Prendiville, the team reached new heights of posting an excellent 7-2-3 record, winning the Catholic Conference title through a playoff with Holy Name, and finishing a tantalizing 2 shots behind the leaders for third place in the District III run-off.

1974 was a year that saw each player make some contribution to the success of the squad. The six stalwarts for Mr. Prendiville were led by State Schoolboy Finalist Rick Watrous. He was followed by supershooting Jim Orcutt, Pioneer Award winner and Captain Rich Lacouture, talented Marlboro Freshman Paul Marinoni, and the consistently strong twosome of Ed (Chuck) Tidman and senior Ray Konisky. Other golfers who turned in fine efforts were Paul O'Keefe, Larry Sowa and Tom Dolan. With the loss of but two starters from the team, Mr. Prendiville can look forward with optimism to 1975.

Kaleidoscope

"I'm right; everybody else is wrong!"

There is a feeling that comes over St. John's once a year.
It's unlike anything else that occurs here.
It starts the first day Joe Hayes steps on campus,
And never really ends.
It's not quite spring fever;
It's more than that.
It builds slowly through the Ad Drive and the Ticket Drive and finally culminates on opening night.
It's the kind of thing that produces the most successful
Ad Drive in the Shows' history.
More importantly, it gives pleasure and satisfaction
To all who participate in it.
It's the kind of thing that brings the best out of people
And involves directly almost everyone in the school.
We called it Kaleidoscope.
It's what makes St. John's work--
It's Pioneer Spirit.

"...St. John's Has Been Robbed!"

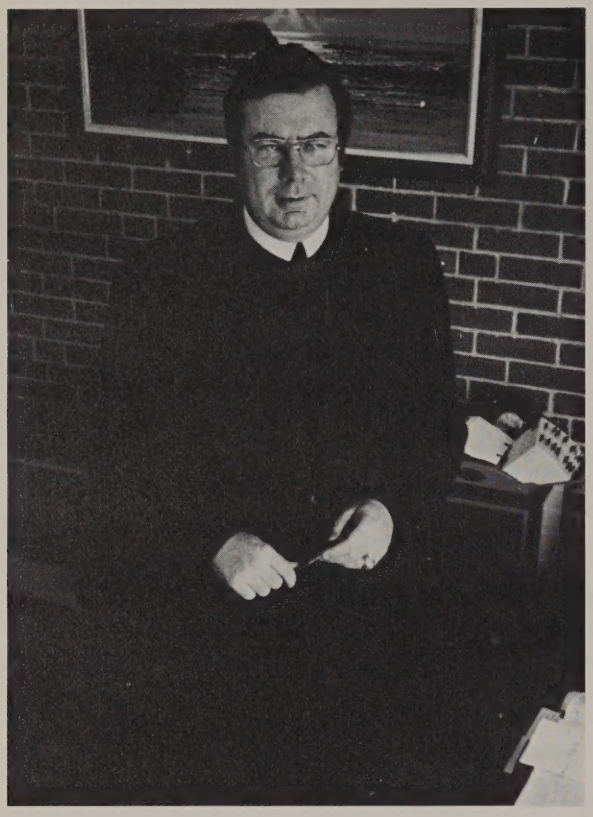
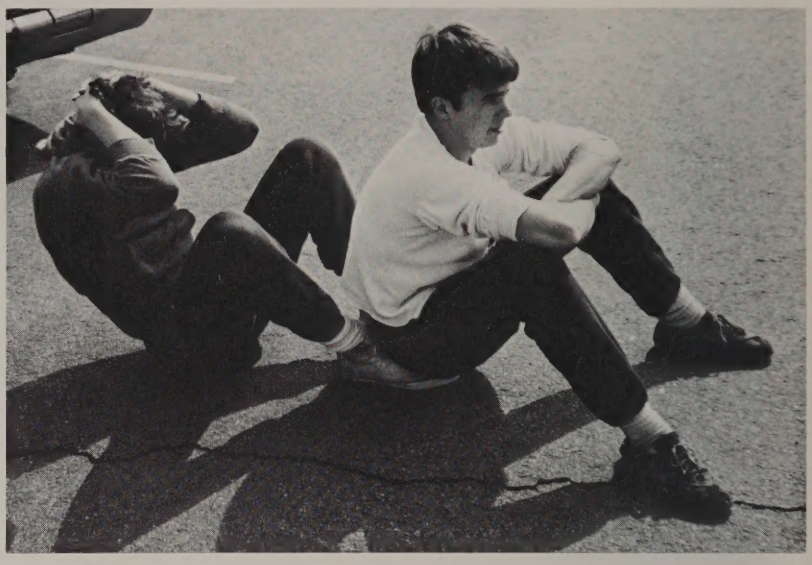
How to Live a Hundred Years Happily



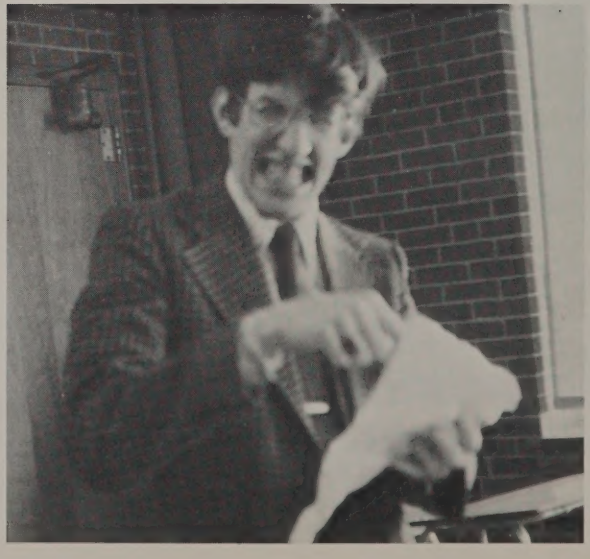
Do not be on the lookout for ill health.



Keep usefully at work.

Meet adversity valiantly.

Keep on liking people.



Meet the little problems of life with decision.

Have a hobby.

Learn to be satisfied.

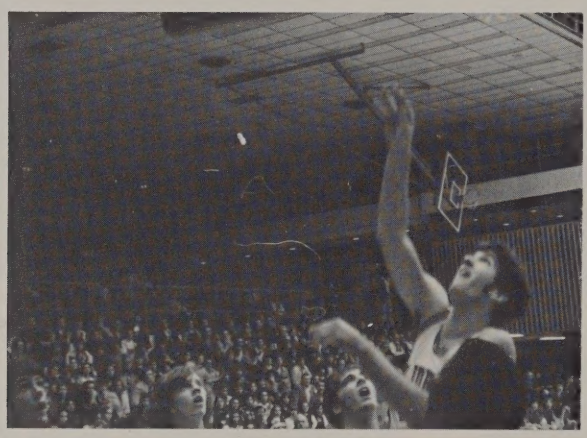
Above all, maintain a good sense of humor, best done by saying something pleasant every time you get a chance.

Live and make the present hour pleasant and cheerful. Keep your mind out of the past, and keep it out of the future.

by John A. Schindler

Reidy: I'm sorry--I'm with HIM.

But Mr. Prendiville, I live here!



You got it up there, Kevin; YOU get it down.

May I PLEASE say somthing?

The Underclassmen are the future and the Seniors are the past, and the future is presently the past.

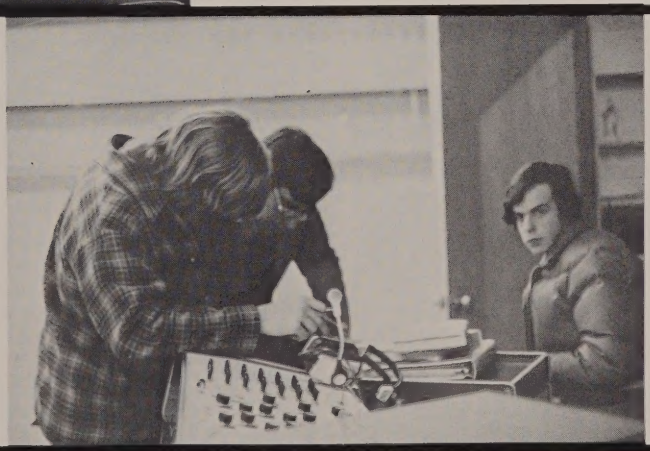
St. John's has changed since I was a freshman. The walls are the same; so are the ceilings and floors. Perhaps the change is in the people--the faculty and students. So many changes: new faces here, old faces gone. Could it be the changes are in me? Perhaps that's the difference between a senior and a freshman.

I WAS a wise fool when I was a sophomore. It was the best year, in between the novelty of being a freshman and the uncertainty of being a senior. I thought too much of myself and my freedom--and I enjoyed it! I thought I knew everything, yet I knew nothing. Still it was the best year. Lord, if I was a fool then, let me be one forever.

They're right about that change which comes between the sophomore and junior years. Others reflected the change--none of us were the same as in June. We were better and so worse; more intelligent and so less intelligent. For good or bad, we are something else now and what we were are just memories.



Now, I'm a freshman again.

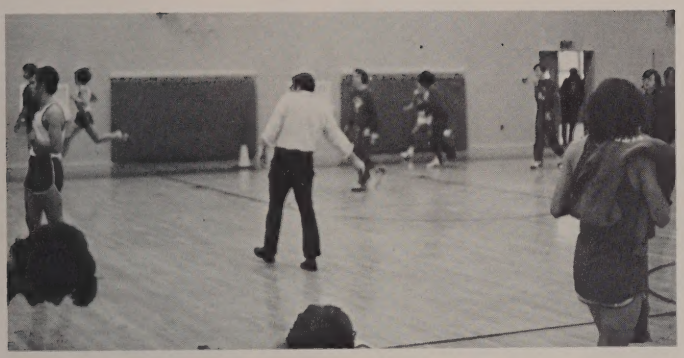
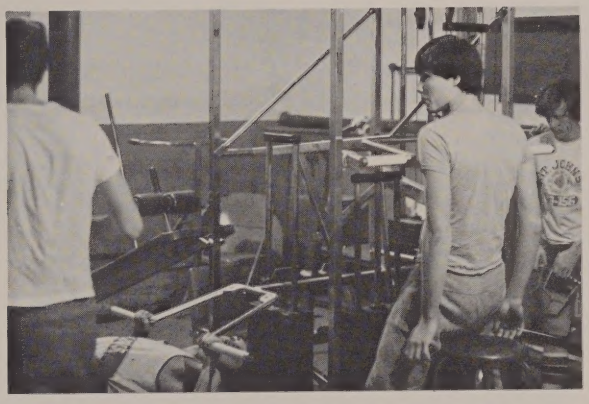
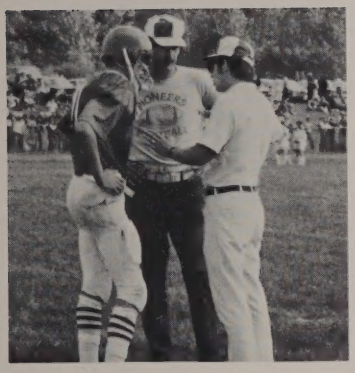
St. John's Students Hard At Play



The Ringmaster!

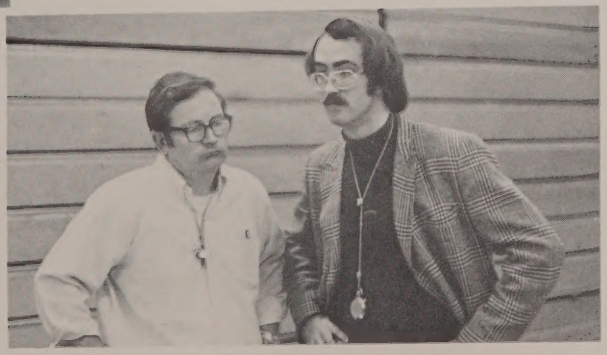


How do you start this thing?



That's right Jim--86 cokes, 43 hot dogs and 25 without mustard.

Hold it...my finger's caught!



That's the last deluxe combo pizza I share with him.

MEMO

TO: The present Yearbook Editors
FROM: The Editors of the 1973-1974 Yearbook
RE: The Complete Photographer

Whereas, this year we have had more than our share of photographic problems, we wish to lend you some advice before it's too late:

1. Remembering that a picture is worth 1000 words--AT ALL COSTS, USE 1000 WORDS!
2. Keep all negatives for blackmail purposes.
3. The amount of good photos is inversely proportional to the amount needed.
4. Regard with suspicion any photographer who cannot load an Instamatic camera.
5. Kelly's Law of Selective Misplacement: The best photos will inevitably be lost.

Below, you will find several interesting photographic examples which you may find informative;

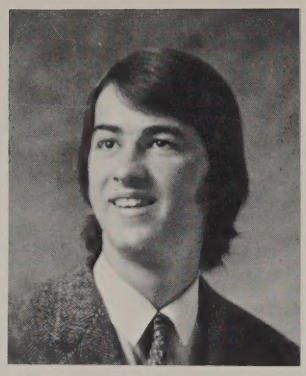
#1. Very good special effects, combining blur with double exposure.

#2. It's important to capture a natural pose; that's why this is a high quality photo. We call it, "the face that sunk a 1000 ships."

#3. Good composition; excellent candid--note natural facial expressions.

Seniors

MARK C. ABRAMSON
8 Welch Ct., Cherry Valley-
Holy Cross
Although Mark was on the Bowling Team, the Chess Club, and played intramurals at St. John's, his main interests were outside the school. He liked hunting, fishing, skiing, and motorcycling.



MICHAEL S. BELLOTTI
304 Cook Lane, Marlboro-
Holy Cross
Mike has participated in both athletics and academics at St. John's to the full--everything from baseball to the Model United Nations Organization. Mike's favorite activities, however, remain eating and sleeping.

TIMOTHY E. AHERN
37 Walnut St., Oxford-military service
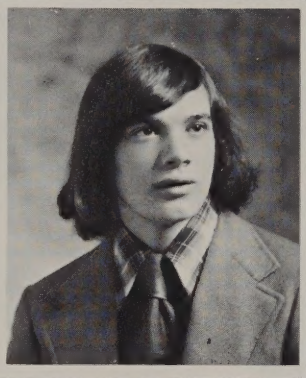
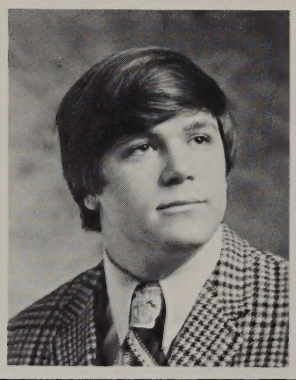
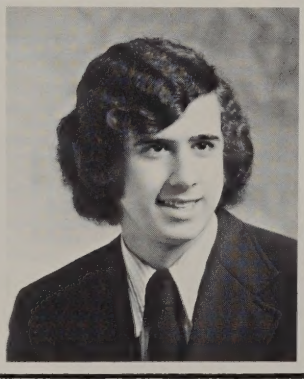
Tim has been very involved in intramural sports since his freshman year. Outside St. John's, where he spent most of his time, Tim played CYC basketball and enjoyed photography.

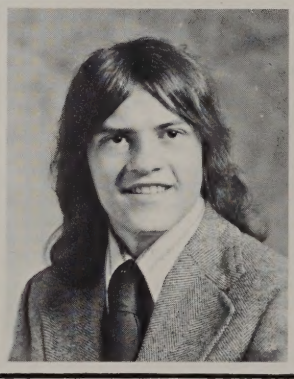




PETER I. BLUTE
95 High St., Shrews.
Boston College
Although Pete puts forth an image of a football player, his career on the gridiron is only part of his story. He has competed in Basketball and Track, and has also written for the St. John's Review. Pete has been a member of the Yearbook, Dance, Coffeehouse, and Prom Committees.

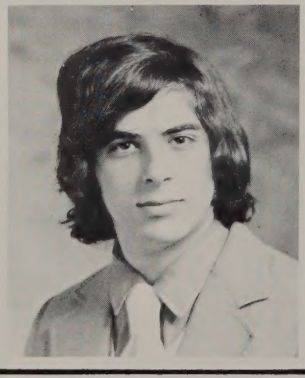
PETER T. ALLARD
20 Franconia St., Worc.-
Worc. State
Pete devoted a great deal of time to the Coffeehouse and Dance Committees, and competed actively in Track, Golf, and Cross-Country. He also likes water-skiing, basketball, and music, and plans to do some traveling after graduation.

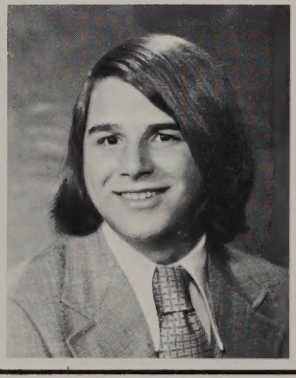




JOHN M. BONINA
2 Norwood St., Worc.-
Worc. State
John was the chairman of the Main South Youth Council and a member of the YMCA Extension Council. At St. John's he played intramurals and was an assistant homeroom representative.

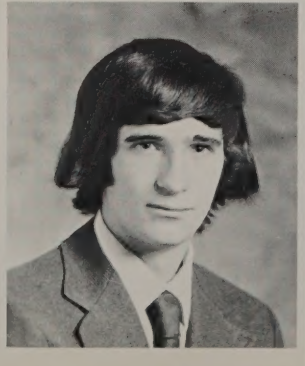
RICHARD F. ALLIEGRO
119 Lovell St., Holden-
Univ. of Mass.
Rich rowed crew in both Junior and Senior years with much success. He has a passionate liking of both scuba-diving and motorcycles. Rich wants to be remembered for participating in the phone booth committee.

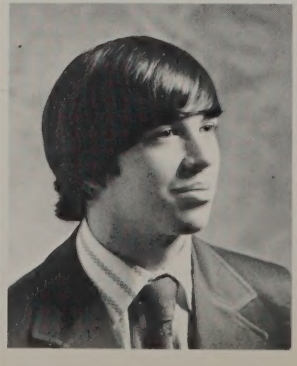




MICHAEL W. BRAZEAU
45 Franklin St., Worc.-
Culinary Instit.
Mike's main activities at St. John's were the Ski Club, intramurals, the spring show, and the Dance, Coffeehouse, and Prom Committee. He also enjoyed hockey, camping, and fishing.

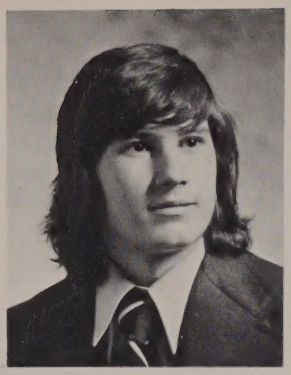
MICHAEL P. BARRY
40 Beverly Rd., Worc.-
Assumption College
Mike was one of the standout track performers in the senior class. Mike participated in the Yearbook and holds the Indoor Track Record of 1:21.2 for the 600.

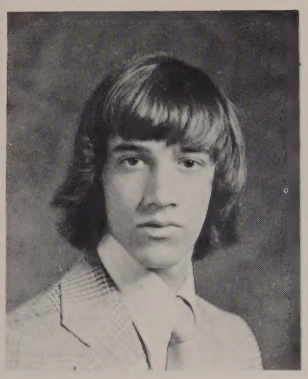




PAUL M. BROSNIHAN
45 Collins Rd., Worc.-
Worc. State
Paul has been a member of the Dance, Coffeehouse, and Prom Committees. He has participated in intramural soccer, CYC basketball, and street hockey. Paul has been active yearly in the Show and been a member of the Student Council.

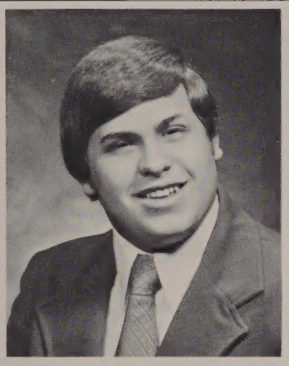
JOHN E. BYRNES
22 Monticello Dr., Paxton-
Holy Cross
Jack's favorite activities at St. John's included intramurals, the Ski Club, the Spring Show, the National Honor Society and the Chess Club. In sports, Jack played on CYC basketball and softball and varsity soccer. Jack is a member of the Society of Outstanding American High School Students.

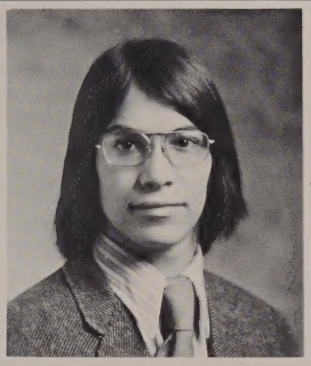




RAOUL M. CHALIFOUX
Coney Rd., Spencer-
Furniture Business
During his freshman and sophomore years, Raoul took part in various intramural sports. Most of Raoul's time was devoted to extracurricular activities, including service as an advisor to the Explorer Post 312.

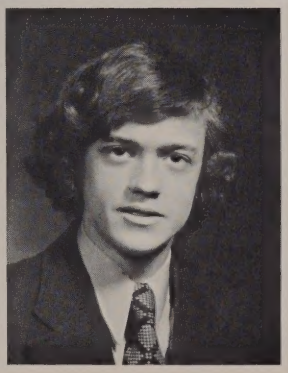
RONALD P. CABANA
845 Grove St., Worc.-
Holy Cross
Ron is one of the more colorful people at St. John's. Not only does he have the cleanest car in the parking lot, but also claims some control over the weather. He likes his car and girls, and dislikes winter (specifically blizzards). Ron has been a member of the Camera Club and the Model UN Organization.





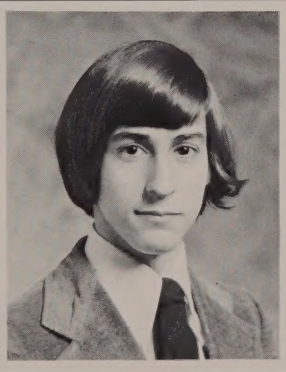
STEVEN V. CIRAS
44 Crest Circle, Worc.-
Holy Cross
Steve played hockey (hockey, not hooky) during his first two years at St. John's, though crew proved to be his most successful activity. He was a member of the crew team all four years and was co-captain of the team during his senior year.

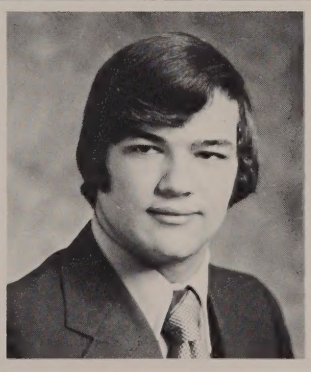
JAMES M. CALLAHAN
70 Boyd St., Braintree-
Electrical trade
Jim was much involved in intramural soccer while at St. John's and spent much time in activities outside of school. Jim enjoys old horror movies and, being the affable type, always makes much of a good party.



JOSEPH S. CIVIELLO
30 Colton Lane, Shrewsbury-
St. Anselm's
Joe was one of those upstart newcomers to St. John's who thought he had to make a name for himself. How does a history of two years of phenomenal success in basketball, soccer and baseball sound? Joe made a name for himself, all right--'Injun' and all in only two years...

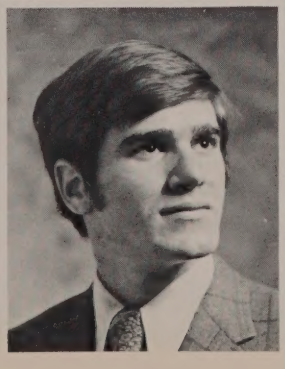
JAMES V. CASHMAN
67 Harold St., Worc.-
College choice uncertain
Jim was involved in almost every area of pursuit at St. John's. He worked on the light crew of the Show for three years and was active in intramural sports, especially street hockey. Jim was a member of the Cross Country team and the Model UN Organization.

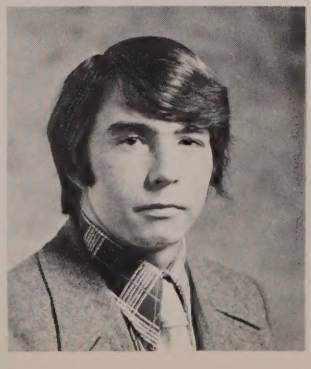




ROBERT E. CLARK
3 Old Charter Rd., Marlboro-
Quinsigamond Comm.
Bob distinguished himself with participation in the Spring Show. He also played intramural and JV hockey and intramural football. Outside of St. John's Bob played in league hockey and baseball.

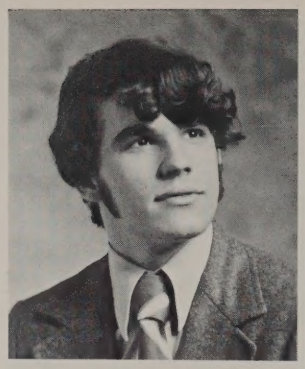
PETER J. CATALDO
411 Mill St., Worc.-
St. Anselm's
Although he is known for his participation in the Show, school politics, and scouting, Pete's greatest renown came from the photo of him published in the 1972 Yearbook agonizingly jumping a hurdle. Pete taught CCD classes and was active outside the school in CYC.

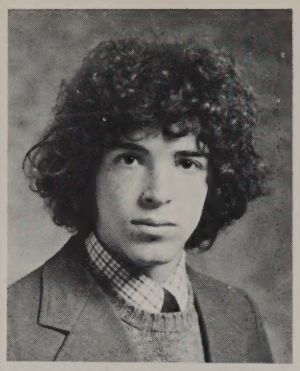




DANIEL J. CLIFFORD
57 Burncoat Terr., Worc.-
Boy's Trade
None of those frills for Dan--we asked him what he liked. He said girls. Now, you can't get a more succinct answer than that, can you? Besides girls, Dan likes intramurals of all sorts and worked on the senior Prom Committee and the Spring Show.

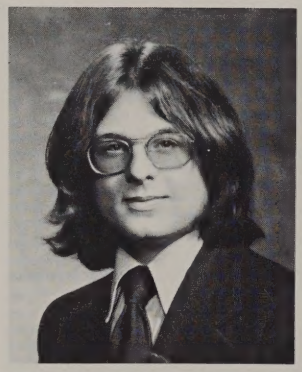
JAMES C. COLONIES
6 Fairview St., Shrewsbury-
US Coast Guard
Jim was known around St. John's for his interest in things military. Outside of school, Jim was an avid sportsman. He enjoyed the outdoors, especially fishing, hunting, and boating. Jim was also fond of chess.





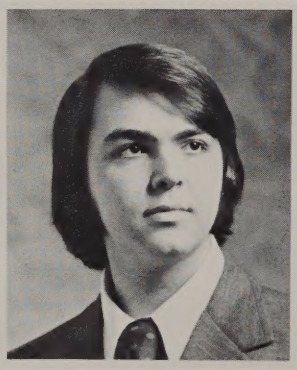
JAMES F. CUNNINGHAM
22 Glen View Rd., Auburn-
Nichols College
Jim has rowed crew for the last three years in all the best circles (ouch!). He's been a member of the Junior and Senior Prom Committees and was Vice-President of the Photography Club. Outside of St. John's, he played CYC basketball and was a member of the Auburn Rifle Club.

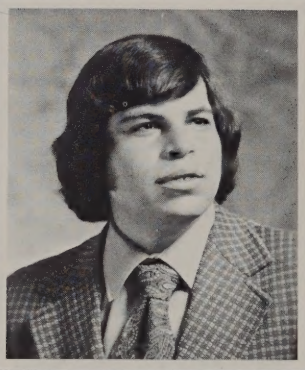
STEPHEN P. CONCORDIA
36 Summer St., Shrewsbury-
Providence College
Steve was active in "Bravo" and "Razzmatazz", the fifth and sixth Spring Shows. He was active also in the Dance Committee, the Camera club and the Poster club. During his junior and senior years, Steve was very busy with activities outside of St. John's.



GERALD J. DeCAIRE
35 Airport Rd., N. Grafton-
Worcester State
Jerry's pursuits at St. John's were mostly on ice and on the soccer field. Jerry spent four star years on the hockey team, culminating his career as captain during his senior year. Besides this, he found time outside of school to be president of his CYC.

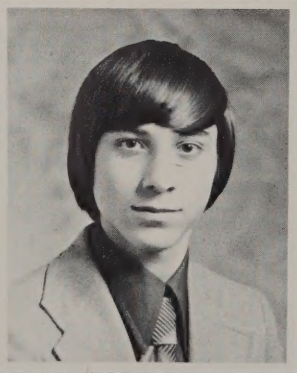
MARK D. CONNOLLY
26 Coachlace St., Clinton-
work
Mark played intramurals in his first two years at St. John's. and was active at the same time in the Spring Show. He was a member of the school Band and the Poster Club. Among his many "likes" are girls, movies and music.

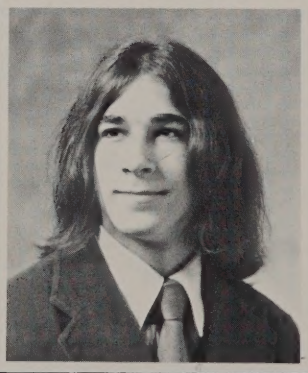




JAMES L. DeMARCO
16 Harold St., Worc.-
Assumption
As a sophomore, Jim first started playing basketball intramurals, and he's been playing every year since. Besides basketball, Jim played football and served on the Senior Prom Committee. Jim also plays street hockey and enjoys working on cars as an outside activity.

PAUL CORDELLA
17 Bay State Rd., Worc.-
Northeastern University
Paul was very busy with sports activities at St. John's, especially the Ski Club, intramurals and Stanley Cup Hockey. He has participated in the Spring Show for four years. And with all this, he still found time to dislike English 4.



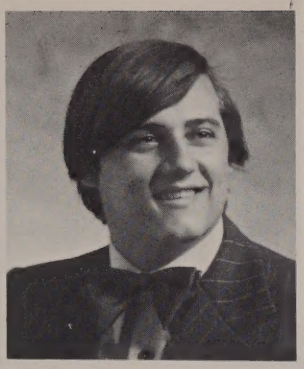


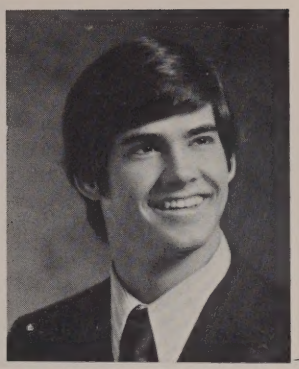
STEPHEN P. DEMERS
26 Harold St., Worc.-
Univ. of Mass.
While at St. John's, Steve was a member of both the cross-country and crew teams. He also participated in the spring show and the Ski Club, though motorcycles always remained his favorite pastime.

MICHAEL K. CREANE
20 Wildwillow Dr., Holden-
Holy Cross
Mike has been one of the most involved people during his stay at St. John's. Mike began his career as freshman class President. He was a member of SAC during his sophomore and junior years, and was state representative to the State Board of Education. Mike participated in almost every sport at St. John's, and was also active outside of the school in many community groups.

RONALD B. DERIE
34 Sampson St., S. Grafton-
work
Ron has been a member of the St. John's Review for the past two years and has served as a member of the Camera Club and Yearbook Photography Staff. Ron enjoys playing hockey, basketball, and football, but is proudest of organizing St. John's Bowling Team.

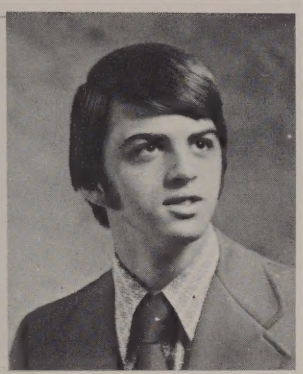
JAMES O. DERRY
616 Main Dr., Shrewsbury-
Quinsigamond
While at St. John's, Jim excelled as a baseball pitcher. He also played varsity football and intramurals, and was a homeroom representative and on the Junior and Senior Prom Committees.

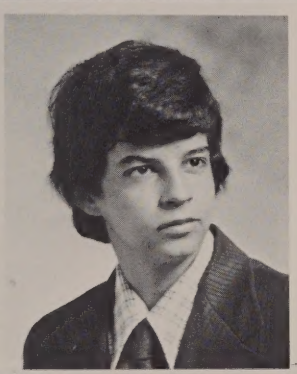




PHILIP M. DOLAN
307 South St., Northboro-
work
Phil transferred to St. John's after spending his freshman year at Algonquin Regional. He played soccer and basketball at St. John's, and likes to play golf outside of school. He also enjoys a good party with his friends.

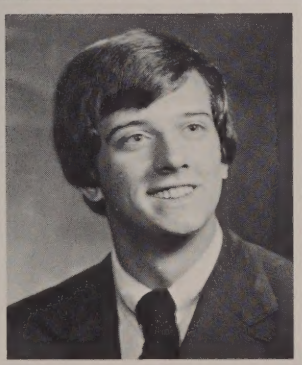
DONALD P. DESORCY
15 Atwood Ave., Millbury-
Holy Cross
Don was a member of the French Club during his junior and senior years, and participated in both Prom Committees. Don, however, is proudest of his accomplishments in track, where he broke the St. John's high hurdle records.





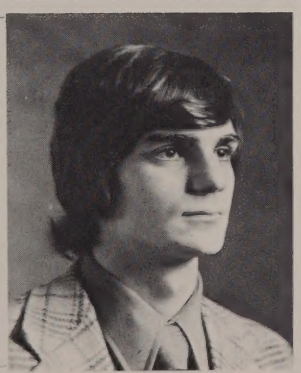
HERBERT W. DONAHUE
35 St. Nicholas Ave., Worc.-
St. Francis
Herb enjoyed intramural sports and played hockey at St. John's. He was a member of the Ski Club, Yearbook, and Coffeehouse Committee, and participated in the Spring Show.

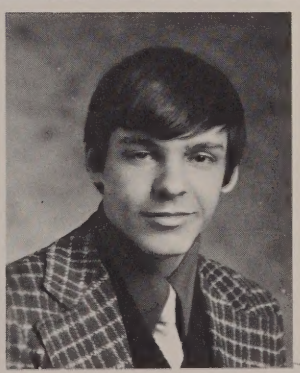
JAMES P. DIGGINS, JR.
129 Twinbrooke Dr., Holden-
Nichols
While at St. John's, Jim did everything from row crew to participate in the spring show. He was a member of the Senior Prom Committee and worked after school in a supermarket. Jim wants to be remembered as being well-liked, and we're sure he will be.



PATRICK J. DONAHUE
Hartford Turnpike, Sutton-
Worcester Tech
While at St. John's, Pat was constantly seen behind the range finder of his 35 mm camera. Besides supplying us with some fine photos, Pat played intramural hockey and participated in the spring show. Outside of school, he taught CCD and was an Eagle Scout.

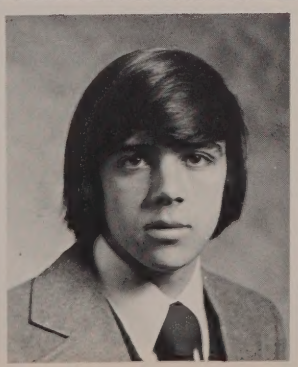
FRANK B. DiLEO
632 Sunderland Rd., Worc.-
Fitchburg State
Frank was a member of the Junior and Senior Prom Committees, and participated on the Dance Committee. He enjoys dances and street hockey. Being the affable type, he also enjoys a good time with his friends.

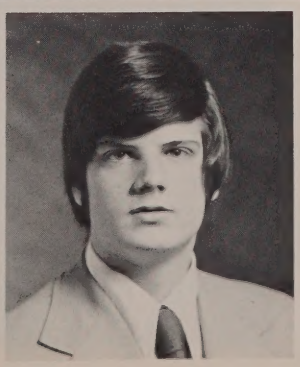




WILLIAM F. DONAHUE
42 Stoneland Rd., Worc.-
Clark
Bill was a member of the Latin Club, French Club, Icon, and the cross-country team. However, he showed his greatest ability on a chess board, as he was the best player in the school's Chess Club.

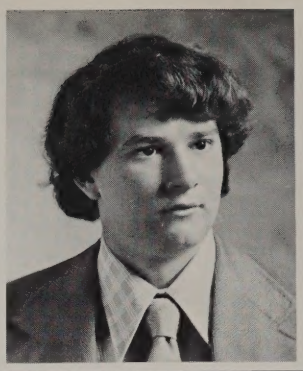
GERALD J. DOLAN, JR.
15 Maplewood Ave., Marlboro-
St. Michael's
Jerry was on the spring track team for three years. In his senior year, Jerry was on the Prom Committee and played in the Stanley Cup Tournament. Music is one of his main interests.

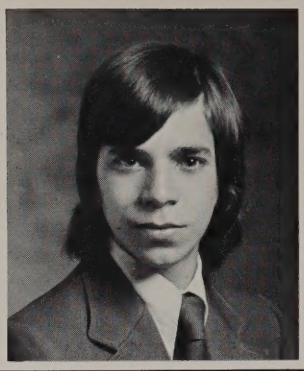




BRIAN J. DOOLEY
18 South Lenox, St., Worc.-
Worcester Tech
Whenever you heard, "Oh, my God!" you knew Brian Dooley was around. "Dools," although always a big man on the basketball court or football field, was best known for his work with the spring show, where he served as one of the principals on the stage crew. Brian also played intramurals and CYC basketball.

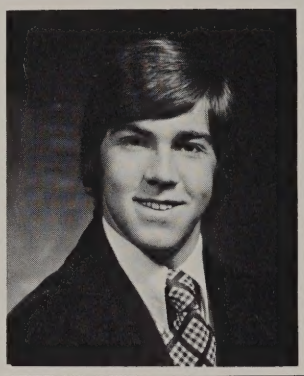
MICHAEL J. DOREY
76 Mill St., Worc.--
Quinsigamond
Mike's favorite activity at St. John's was baseball. He also played golf and participated in indoor track. Mike was involved in CYC basketball and worked part-time.

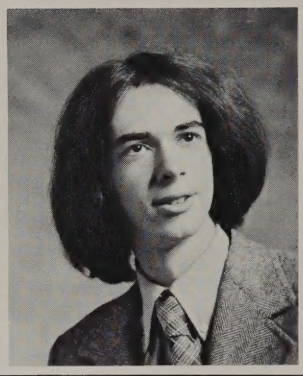




DENNIS P. ECKLAND
18 Browning Rd., Shrewsbury--
Quinsigamond
Dennis participated in numerous intramural activities while at St. John's. He also took part in the spring show in his sophomore and junior years. Outside of school, Den enjoyed skiing and flying.

PAUL F. DUFAULT
463 Salisbury St., Worc.--
Boston College
Paul came to St. John's in September of the sophomore year, and immediately joined the newspaper staff, serving for three years as sports contributor and editor. Paul was one of the most accurate basketball shooters at St. John's, and was often seen on the court. During his senior year, he served as Sports Editor of the Yearbook.





NORMAN S. EMMONS
36 Ridgewood Rd., Worc.--
Worcester State
Norm was a member of many committees and clubs during the course of his four years at St. John's. He was in the Camera Club as well as the Coffeehouse, Dance, and Prom Committees. Norm was also in the Spring Show as a Freshman and Sophomore.

DENIS H. DUGGAN
64 Westminister St., Worc.--

Graduation

Some thoughts come to you on graduation night.

"So this is what it's come to.

The last time I walk with these people as a student.
The finish to all our plans.
The total of everything we've done since our first year.
And what have we done.
Given this school new outlooks and directions, we smugly like to think.
Check the credits: The dances and parties, the leaders and the athletes, the victories and the losses.
And yes, we have had our share of losses, the kind that made us surer and more experienced.
And when the balance is checked, who can say we've only given part to this school?
Who can say our class was not the most dedicated?
And now, when it's all done and finished, that knowledge of what we have done is satisfaction enough.

So, this is what it's come to..."

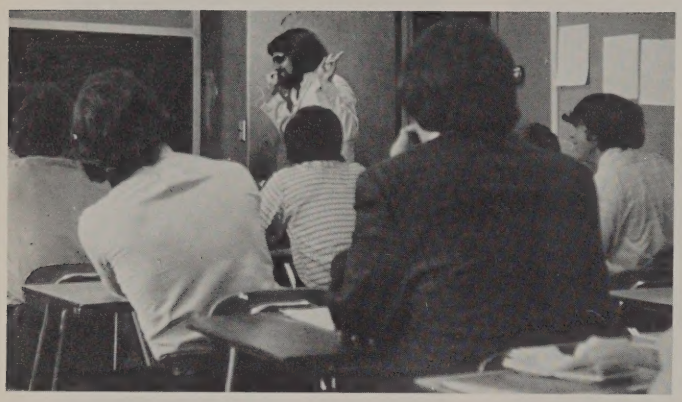
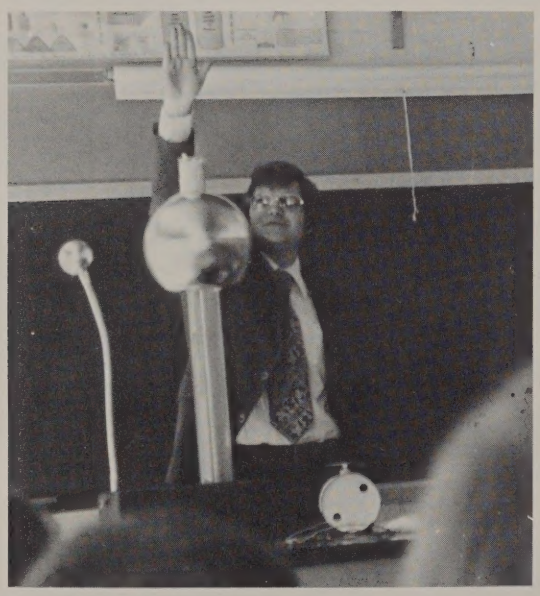
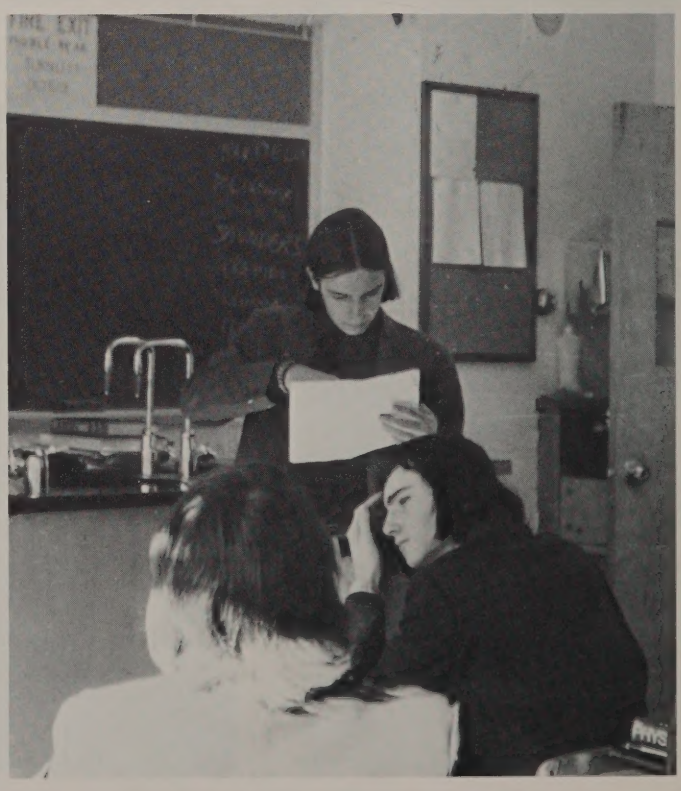
"Memories..."







Build thee more stately mansions, O my soul,
As the swift seasons roll!
Leave thy low-vaulted past!
Let each new temple, nobler than the last,
Shut thee from heaven with a dome more vast.
Till thou at length art free,
Leaving thine outgrown shell by life's unresting sea!
from "The Chambered Nuatilus", Oliver
Wendell Holmes.
